Javier is an associate at Avante since 2013.

Javier obtained his law degree from the Universidade de Santiago de Compostela. Prior to joining Avante, Javier worked for Bergé Group and Vélice Logística, S.A. This experience gave him a practical knowledge of the consignment, loading and stowage operations, as well as of the relations between public institutions and private entities in the port activities and in the maritime transport of goods.

In addition, he held an internship with the company Intraha Reederei-Kontor GmbH in the river port of Duisburg (Germany), whose main activity is maritime and road transport of goods.

Javier has significant hands-on experience in the functioning and methods of the maritime transport of goods.
